AMPHIBIOUS HELICOPTER . . . The air force's first amphibious helicopter, the Sikorsky-built H-5H, just breaks from the water after a routine sea landing. With the new amphibious gear, the H-5H can land with equal ease ashore or on the water, thereby increasing its utility as a rescue, search, and liaison aircraft. The four little bladders before and behind the engine make it possible to carry three lifeline patients. These can hover motionless over rough sea and haul up survivors without further injury to hurt persons or danger to the rescuers. This device may revolutionize rescue at sea or delivery of goods to stranded ships.

On the School Scene

By Dianna Brightman

"I heard the bells on Christmas Day
Their old familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet the words repeat
Of peace on earth, good-will to men."

And in despair I bowed my head:
"There is no peace on earth; I said,
For hate is strong, and mocks
The song of peace, good-will to men."

Henry W. Longfellow

The poets sentiment in reference to another era in American history seems very appropriate for the Christmas season of 1949. We are reminded of the recent war to which a peace treaty has not yet been signed. Although turmoil is present in the world today the Yuletide season brings us more closely together for a brief time at least.

We believe that if this feeling of Good-Will could prevail the year around in "our hearts," we might have everlasting peace in the world.

A Good Samaritan
"Apartments for Rent—Children Welcome." This novel sign was seen recently by the writer in the near-by town of Springfield.

At first thought, the message conveyed by the sign caused me to think of its appropriateness to the season, we are entering once again—the Yuletide seasons. What a good neighbor this landlord must be to his young tenants—am I right? Yes, a nice Christmas tree in store for some lucky family who otherwise might not have a home for these holidays.

As the sign is used at all seasons of the year by this landlord, it seems to me a significant fact in regard to the situation that he was not inspired by generous impulse due to the Christmas season, but that this feeling is in his heart the year around. Would that there were more "Good Samaritan" landlords!

Look at those English girls over there! Aren't those children Dutch? Oh! There is a real torador!

All of these exclamations may be heard Thursday night, December 8, at 8:00 o'clock when the High School Girls Chorus presents "My Spanish Sweetheart" on the stage of the Opera House.

The setting of the operetta takes us to Haarlem, Holland where the Feast of the Tulips is being held. All of the children bring their tulips to the public square where they will be judged and a prize given for the finest. Kit and Kat, as anyone can see, have the most beautiful flowers, but Greta and Blitz are so anxious for the prize that they exchange the labels of Kit and Kat's tulips for their own.

Several English girls, their chaperone, and their guides, happen to visit Haarlem on the day of the festivities. The guides are typical Yankee boys and the girls have lost their hearts to them. May is very fond of Jimmy, one of the guides, but he does not return her affection. He believes she does not have as much pep as Carlita, a Spanish dancer.

A humorous situation arises because of May's intention to prove she has pep. She involves Jimmy in a bull fight much to his concern. With the help of the Stadt-holder and Dutch Kiddies, the tulip mix-up is settled and all is happily ended.

Holt Speaks at Convocation At College

"Education, its responsibilities and opportunities" was the theme discussed by E. E. Holt, superintendent of the Springfield public schools at the Cedarville college convocation Wednesday, Dec. 7.

Mr. Holt said that if we ever come to the point in this country that we are willing to pay the price we are not worthy of our heritage. Somewhere along the line education fails if a man fails to appreciate the heritage he has. Our world is in a chaotic condition and the overtones of that condition pour into our lives.

Mr. Holt quoted Hebrews 11:1 hoped for and the evidence of "Faith is the substance of things not seen," and then maintained that the individual who has faith has the greatest blessing and privilege.

The speaker pointed out that the schools must accept the responsibility for murders in the prisons as well as pointing with pride to the fine doctors and lawyers they have produced.

According to Mr. Holt "Every one ought to follow the practice some belief if he is going to live up to the privilege of being a teacher." The acquisition of "things" was maintained to be a false idea of what is meant by "the most."

The speaker concluded by saying, "Happiness is the man who learns that to grow is to give. One who does not grow can get no happiness from life." "There is no satisfaction gained in the accumulation of wealth unless it is used wisely."

"Curley" Miller and his fine orchestra will provide the music from 8:30 until midnight.

Carlson New Publicity Director

Two faculty members have new positions, President Ira D. Vayhinger announced last week. Prof. Frederick M. Carlson has been appointed publicity director of Cedarville College, succeeding Prof. Howard L. Wise. Prof. Wise was appointed manager of the Cedarville College Book Store.

These changes came about when Dr. F. A. Jurkat, who had operated the book store as a business for many years, was forced by ill health to relinquish the book store, turning its assets and liabilities over to the college. The college in turn appointed Wise to manage its new business. He had been acting in that capacity for three months.

After three months of medical treatment, Dr. Jurkat is still unable to return to his teaching duties in the language department. Marked improvement during the past week led him to predict his return at the beginning of the second semester.

New Bridge to Supplant the Old-Time Span

Another Greene county landmark (or waterwork) will soon become a memory. The ancient-type, long-span wooden bridge over the Little Miami river near Bellbrook is to be removed within the year, according to a plan of the county commissioners who have completed the red tape necessary to obtain federal aid on a secondary road improvement.

The new steel-and-concrete structure is estimated to cost $72,000. The county's share is to be 50% of that. Contracts will be let for the improvement Dec. 20.

Specifications call for a three-span structure, 24 feet wide and 195 long. The old covered bridge was built in the 80's and is the longest of any bridge of its design in Greene county. It is nearly 170 feet in length, making it one of the longest of its kind in the state.

Jackets Split With Villa and Cincinnati

The Cedarville college Yellow Jackets split in their two games during the past week, winning from Villa Madonna 52-39 on Saturday night here and losing to the University of Cincinnati's powerhouse Tuesday night 33-37. Saturday night the Yellow Jackets got back into the win column with a 13-point victory over an invading Villa Madonna quintet.

The game was much closer than the final score indicates. At the half Cedarville held only a one-point edge, leading 24-23. With less than 10 minutes in the game the Jackets began the drive, moving into a three-point lead, 42-39, with only four minutes remaining. At this point Cedarville changed from their usual zone defense into a pressing man-to-man.

This strategy proved to be the turning point in the contest with Sumate and Blatter scoring on fast breaks and Townsley hooking in a shot to tie the game. Villa Madonna, unable to get away good shots because of the close guarding, failed to score further, and CC raced on to ring up its second victory of the season, 52-39. The Jackets now have a 2-2 record.

Blatter and Sumate led the CC scoring with 11 points each. U. of C.'s eighth ranking team nationally last year lost only one man and he was amputated of a leg after the game. Villa Madonna defense all but bottled up the Jackets efforts. It was the opening ball game of the season for the Bearcats.

The Jackets meet University of Dayton tonight (Friday) at the Xenia field house and next week play two games away from home—Ashland on Tuesday and Morris Harvey on Saturday. Their next home game will be on Monday, Dec. 19 with Foresters of Huntington.

Indians Edge Madison; Scalp Catawba Here

The Cedarville Indians added two more scalps to their victory belt during the past week by edging Madison Rural last Friday night 42-39 and then walloping Catawba on Tuesday 63-29. Both games were played at Alford Memorial gym.

Against Madison Rural, the Indians jumped in front and at one time in the first quarter held on 8-1 advantage, but the visitors finished fast and at the end of the opening stanza the count was 8-7. In the second quarter the Indians gained somewhat of the upper hand and at the half time intermission the score was 19-14.

Madison cut into the Indians lead in the third period as they accounted for 10 points while Cedarville took 8 to make the score 27-25 going into the final period.

The visitors put on a spurt in the early stages of the fourth quarter and with slightly less than three minutes to play when the automatic time out was called, the score read Madison 37, Cedarville 33.

The Indians came roaring back as they poured in 9 points in the remainder of the game while Madison could add only 2 to their total.

In the game with Catawba it was a different story. The Indians took a commanding lead in the opening minutes and took the first period 14-3 and increased that to 30-8 at the half with the visitors accounting for only one field goal in the initial two periods.

The third period was more of the same with Coach Walker sending in the substitutes before it was many minutes old. The second and third teams finished out the fourth quarter to win handily.

Paul (Abie) Vest continued to pour the points through the hoop, getting 20 against Madison for his lowest total of the season and then 24 (which is his season average) against Catawba in slightly more than two quarters. Tonight (Friday) the Indians will meet Springfield Valley and then will wind up the 1949 end of their schedule by traveling to Ross the following Friday to play Greene county league play.

Sunday evening, Dec. 11, at 7:30 there will be another of the religious films shown in the Methodist church. The first film "Child of Bethlehem" is a short length sound film concerning the life of Jesus from birth until the age of 12. It took place in a small town in the year 1906 and concerns Uncle Henry's family and a publisher and an ambitious editor.

This is a truly heart warming story. Both these films are interesting for children as well as adults. These films are shown the second Sunday of each month in the 3 different churches and are sponsored by the Sunday School, Bible class, Westminster class and the class and the Wesley class. A free will offering will be taken to defray expenses of the films.

Christmas Seal Sales Important

As the 1949 Christmas seal sale in Greene county enters its third week, receipts so far total $2143, or 32% of the county's quota of $6,700, it was revealed in a report by Miss Gertrude Fulton, treasurer of the Greene county Tuberculosis and Health association.

Proceeds from the 1949 Christmas seal sale, which will continue until Christmas, will finance the 1950 program of the association.

With three weeks of the sale remaining, Miss Fulton pointed out there is good chance the county will reach its quota. However, she urges that return be made as soon as possible.

The associations program of tuberculosis prevention and control for the public good year depends on the success of the 1949 Christmas seal sale since the sale constitutes the association's sale support.

The theme of Rev. Jamieson's message was "the attraction of Christ." The magnetic qualities of the Saviour, whose birthday we celebrate this month, are numerous and satisfying.

His sympathy, love, and understanding are indicated in the fact He is able to fulfill vital human wants and to assure us of a life hereafter.

Therefore, young people are building character for this life, and for a future life as well. Local Pupils Broadcast.

Indians Edge Madison
The Cedarville Indians had to come from behind in the last few minutes of last Friday night's game to nip a strong Madison Rural team, 42 to 39. The home lads jumped to an early but short-lived lead of 8 to 1 in the first quarter; however, Madison came back strong and trailed at the end of this period by only 8-7. The second and third cantos were played on even terms with the Indians having a slight edge of 2 points at the end of the third quarter, 27-25. The last period was by far the best of the game, and for a spell it looked as though they might run away with the game. After trailing at the automatic 37-33, Cedarville rolled in to high gear, scoring 9 counters while holding Madison to 2 in the final minutes to rack up their fourth win in five attempts.

Paul Vest once more was Cedarville's high man, scoring his "lowest" total of the season, 20 points. The remainder of the Indian scoring was evenly distributed; on Heldorn was closest to Vest, with 8 points. Madison's scoring was attributed chiefly to two men, Hunter with 11 markers, and Down with 14. A big difference in the final score was the foul accuracy of the teams. Cedarville gained 10 points by free throws, while Madison obtained but 3.

Score by Quarters:
Cedarville..... 8 11 8 15—42
Madison R..... 7 8 10 14—39
The Indians' second quarter was their fourth win in five starts to give the madison seconds a 23-14 setback. The little Indians took a first period lead of 8-5, and from then on they were never threatened. Bruce Corrigan, who was high man with seven markers, was closely followed in the personal scoring of Rog Collins with six, and Jom Turnbull with 5.

Score by Quarters:

C. H. S. Pupils Have Visitor
Last Tuesday, as Mr. Guthrie's chemistry students reported for class, a beautiful little tiger kitten somehow entered class, too. While the class did their lab work, Josephine—our name for her—played with a pencil which had fallen on the floor, and investigated the science room generally.

Later in the day, she visited Miss Hanna's office where one of her admirers, Anne Huffman, was typing the daily attendance lists. At the close of the period, a search-by her feline-loving friends under the desk and chairs revealed "no" Josephine.

But our fears were allayed when she appeared in our health class. Here Josephine played in the window sill, amused by a small piece of chalk. Finally she clutched it till the end of the period.

After her experiences of the day, what an unusual story Josephine must have related to her feline friends at home.

By E. A. DRAKE
Forum's Christmas Party
Dr. Frank D. Slutz of Dayton will be guest speaker at the Farm Forum's Christmas party December 20, at 7 P. M., at the Bee and Thistle in Osborn.

The Beaver Creek township program committee with Herman Ankney and Nelson Moore, co-chairman, are arranging the program.

This will be ladies night and forum members are urged to secure tickets from their township committeemen or at the county agent's office.

Chairmen of the township ticket committees are as follows: Harry Trolinger, Bath; Nelson Moore, Beaver Creek; Elden Heniz, Caesar Creek; Harold Dobbin, Cedarville; Vaughn Lewis, Jefferson; Clark Meredith, Miami; Arthur Burns, New Jasper; Lester McDormon, Ross; Harley Hetzler, Silver Creek; G. H. Thomas, Sugar Creek; Harvey Huff, Spring Valley; Cecil Conklin, Xenia.

Predict Low Cost Pork Cuts
With heavy supplies of pork for market, the U. S. D. A. puts pork at the top of the monthly plentiful food list, and says that for the first time in several years, December food budget planners can count on low-cost pork.

There will be plenty of apples particularly in Ohio where the local harvest has been of near record proportions. Cranberries will be plentiful with more than 805,000 barrels available.

Meat diets can be varied with poultry and Christmas shoppers will find plentiful supplies of walnuts, almonds, filberts and pecans.

Extra heavy supplies of canned corn will make that vegetable a good buy during December, along with eggs, dairy products, fruit, and sugar products.

Send Seeds for Testing To State Laboratory
Farmers and others who wish to have farm or vegetable seeds tested for germination and purity should mail them to C. N. McIntyre, seed analyst, state seed laboratory, room 713, state office building, Columbus.

The seed laboratory is operated by the division of plant industry, the Ohio department of agriculture and is the official agency for testing agricultural and vegetable seed for the citizens of the state.

Remedy for Worms in Hogs
Hogs can be rid of large round worms in a simple, one-day treatment with sodium fluoride. A dosage of one pound of sodium fluoride mixed with 100 pounds of dry, ground feed allows a margin both for safety and effectiveness.

It is a simple treatment because it calls for no advance starving of the pigs for a day, and no handling of the animals is required. Mixing the chemical with dry feed, and feeding in that form is strongly recommended in preference to a slop mixture.

Mineral Deficiencies Show in Corn Yields

The harvest season is the best time of the year to observe results of mineral deficiencies in final corn yields and begin to plan next year's program to supply all the necessary elements for satisfactory crop. Deficiency symptoms of nitrogen, potassium and phosphorus in corn plants are always accompanied by decreased yields.

Calcium and magnesium are two minerals which may be low in young corn plants due to restricted absorption but which are plentiful in mature plants. Calcium deficiency results in top of ragged leaf tips when the leaves are finally unrolled and mature. Magnesium deficiency shows up as streak or mottled areas between the veins where chlorophyll is contained. Both symptoms may show up as the leaves are unrolling in rapidly growing plants but they completely disappear when plants are fully grown. There is no evidence that either of these mineral deficiencies, under the conditions described cause any yield reductions.

Editorial REFLECTIONS

Sometimes, not for publication, we have a feeling, somehow, we could get along without John L. Lewis. Do you suppose eyebrows would burn? How's that? "They'll burn, all right!" "Judge not, that you be not"—out of coal, brother! Even after an unequalled beautiful fall that extended a month beyond its almanac limit, some folks growl when it gets chilly. The government has ordered a toothpaste company to stop certain claims it has been making for its products. But that doesn't bother a lot of people who use Lewis to soak their feet in over night. . . . Greene county's federal roads have been paths for returning hunters from Pennsylvania with antlers results slung over the automobile hood and fenders. Cows, mistaken for deer, are seldom brought home with such a public demonstration. . . . As usual, our folks of Greene county got some top honors at the International show at Chicago. We were expecting that.

CURING COLDS

The people are being full-paged with information about a new cure for colds. Medicos disagree violently about the merits of the new drugs. They seem to agree that they are snuffle-stoppers but argue about the effects on other tissues and organs. A long time ago two sure cures for colds were presented to a sneezing populace. (1) Go to bed, get a doctor, take medicine, rest up and be well in two weeks. (2) Don't do anything at all, and be over it in 14 days!

THE BUREAU SPEAKS

The head of the national farm bureau federation sets his foot down and raises his voice against the government guaranteeing farmers a profit. In a very logical address before the Ohio farm bureau meeting, Allan E. Kline declared the policy "leads to stabilized mediocrity." It stifles individual enterprise and singles out one industry from others to insure its prosperity. This is a declaration of faith of the most far-reaching effect.

BRANNAN'S PLAN

It develops, as was foreseen by many, that the "Brannan plan" was merely a trial balloon by the administration. The inexperienced Brannan took over the task of selling the country the ideas in the scheme that carries his name, but not his sincere endorsement. Farmers are scornful of the "plan," and economists label it socialistic. And besides, it won't work! Business has shied from it, and farmers are openly opposing it.

HOARDED RICHES

With all the gold you have buried in Kentucky and noddled eggs hid in caves in the west, and wheat by the shipload in about every port, and bins busting with $1.44 corn down at Xenia, you're pretty rich, know that? Mind writing in and telling us what you plan to do with your wealth—leave it to your children? We were afraid of that!

A DISCOVERY

Secretary of State Sawyer (Charlie to us neighbors) made a 15,000-mile tour of the Rand McNally Exhibit A, came back and reported to his chief that the people want taxes lowered. With travel costs like they are, it looks like this information could have been obtained a lot cheaper by writing a postcard or two.

AGE OLD YEN

Something for nothing is live bait to catch votes. It's been used since Ham and Shem ran on opposite tickets as animal keeper for their Pa on the ark. The idea has destroyed every nation that tried it. Staunch people want a government, they can do something for, not one that can do something for them.

THEY SPLASH IT

Judging the future by the past, as the patriot said he knew only how to do it, we suggest that Alger Hiss take off that broad-brimmed hat he wears in the pictures. The whitewash all his ilk gets will mess it up.

WE'RE USED TO IT

It's the old squeeze play, one Roosevelt running for office in New York and the other in California. But if there is anything we're used to by now it's a Roosevelt squeeze play.

THE DEFICIT

The administration plays around with billions like kids play with marbles, and the trouble with the system is that it's our marbles and the game is for keeps.

Personal Religion

Lesson for December 11, 1949

ELECTRICITY was discovered, long ago, but there are millions of people today who never use it and don't know anything about it. Modern plumbing has been in use ever since most of us were born; but most human beings still walk for their water instead of getting it from pipes. All inventions take quite a while to get around. So it is in the realm of the spirit. Jeremiah the prophet, Dr. Foreman it has been said, is the "man who discovered the individual." But 2700 years after his time, the individual needs rediscovering. Even in the church, some people live and act as if Jeremiah's discovery had never been made.

A Man Stands Alone

ALTHOUGH JEREMIAH was a priest and aristocrat by birth, his own class disowned him. The story in Jeremiah 28 shows dramatically why this was. He predicted doom for his nation, and since his own "upper-bracket" people were the nation's leaders, they considered Jeremiah's attitude not only unpatriotic but a downright personal insult.

If it had been left to the priests and the official prophets, the day of Jeremiah's sermon at the temple would have been his last. To put it bluntly, the difference between Jeremiah and all the other "prophets" and priests could be put this way: He knew the nation was too rotten to last, but they thought it was plenty good enough.

They probably could have agreed with him that a wicked nation deserves divine punishment; only they could see nothing wrong with Judah.

Religion by Proxy?

THEY were mistaken many ways. Mistake number one: They thought the Temple, with all that went on in it, was much more important to God than it really was. The whole business—Temple, white-robed priests, chanting choirs, the burning of animals, the incense and the mystic lights—it had become in their eyes a sort of immense good-luck charm. They thought: Surely God will not destroy a city that contains this Temple!

But Jeremiah saw through that mistake. Institutions, rituals, organizations, ceremonies, sacraments, these are all simply means to an end, they have no value in themselves. Everything we call "public worship" is good only if and so far as it lifts and cleanses the spirits of the worshippers and brings them nearer God.

The most perfect and impressive worship, engaged in by those whose hearts are evil, becomes a blasphemy. A fine church is no substitute for fine people. A beautiful worship program will not conceal from God's eye unbecoming souls. Mistake number two: The priests and prophets supposed there was such a thing as religion by proxy. They thought the priests by carrying on their duties could take care of the situation.

God writes on the heart

ANOTHER MISTAKE made by those poor fools of false prophets and priests was in supposing they had the Law of God, when all they had was two tables of stone shut up in a box (I Kings 8:9). They were proud of those tables of stone, they were the Commandments of God, and they were guarded most carefully in the Holy of Holies in the Temple. Surely, God would not destroy the city that possessed the Sacred Law! But Jeremiah knew better. In the long run, the only place the Law of God does real good is when it is written on the heart.

In Jeremiah's most famous prophecy (chap. 31) he looks forward to the day when God's handwriting shall be not on tables of stone but on human hearts. That prophecy is being fulfilled day by day as persons turn their hearts to the Lord and open the book of their lives that God may write his laws there.

Yet how many people have never learned this truth! Having a great tradition is good; owning and reading the Bible is good; but it is not the Bible on the shelf that counts, not carrying a testament in the pocket, but the Word of God "hid in the heart" of those who know, love and do what God desires.

are folks down there they've got a good navy and plenty of boats.

THE BUDGET

"Tight and honest" is the way the president describes his budget of 41 billion dollars for next year. It's enough to make on honest man go out and get tight!

The DAR has placed new monuments to the graves of two soldiers who fought in the revolutionary war. One was on the grave of Nicholas Rhoades in the Clifton cemetery, and the other on the grave of Reuben Dunn in Cost cemetery, near Wright View Heights.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Solution to Many Yule Presents To Be Found in Sewing Machine

By Ertta Haley

Youngsters' Delight

Here are two endearing toys which you can turn out with the help of your sewing machine and delight a child's heart on Christmas morning. You'll find your local sewing center full of suggestions on things to sew for this busy season and the scrap bag will offer limitless possibilities for dressing stuffed dolls.

would appreciate a clothes pin upon. This can be made from a small scrap of sturdy cotton in a solid color, with the waist band and the pockets trimmed in a contrasting floral print.

No one who keeps house can ever have enough pot holders. A set of two or three of these is easily stitched from gay materials. Or, if you prefer, put together some quilted mittens that can be used for handling hot things about the kitchen. Floral sprigged prints are popular for the mitts, and the cuffs can be piped with a solid-colored matching material.

Make Practical Gifts For the New Brides

New homemakers are readily pleased when they think of things for their new homes. Since they're bound to be entertaining a lot, frilly hostess aprons are certain to give them a glow of pleasure. If you want to make the gift more elaborate, make the half aprons match with a bridge and napkin set.

Place mats and breakfast cloths are another of the great needs which brides usually have unless they were heavily "showered" pre-nuptially. These may be simple, plain cottons with contrasting tape to bind the edges or floral plastic cloths that are so easy to wipe clean.

Speaking of the plastics, closet accessories are another of the many items that might be appropriate. You can make a set of three or more envelopes of the material for lingerie cases. A simple gift would be a quilted plastic handkerchief or hose container into which you've tucked a sachet just to make them more interesting.

Decorative towels for the kitchen take no time at all to sew and make a charming gift. Choose the gay florals, or use plain materials piped with contrasting trimming. With a little extra time to spend, you might even want to dress up these towels with appliques.

Scrap Bag Yields Gifts for Young Fry

Don't think for a minute that you have to buy expensive and fancy toys for the younger set. One of the nicest gifts I've ever seen was made into a bunny from a piece of old towel. This had a small zipper down the back so it could be easily whipped off for a tubbing. Overalls covered the bunny and were made from a small scrap of red-and-white checked gingham, with the bib outlined in blue bias tape.

Soft toys such as these are especially good for young babies since they won't hurt themselves, and of course, there's no breakage for mother to clean. When made carefully, the clothes should come off easily for laundering instead of being sewed to the doll or animal. All sorts of dolls and animals may be made from scraps of materials such as are found in any fabric bag. Make your own patterns, or buy them if you feel you lack inspiration.

Little girls from six to eight and older will be particularly fond of you if you do something about replenishing their doll's wardrobe. It's easy enough to get the doll from the mother for measurements and then to make any number of dresses, bonnets, underwear, coats, blankets, etc. depending upon the extent of your gift.

Bibs for babies will please new mothers, whether the child is teething or in the stage of learning how to eat. Terry cloth from an old towel might be used, and trimmed with floral material. Plastic is good for such purposes too, and this is usually finished with bias tape.

Teen-Agers Will Cherish These Kinds of Gifts

Belts are the big rage among teen-agers right now. The gift that can be made in a twinkling is a button-trimmed grosgrain belt that can be worn with any party dress or as a glamor accessory for blouse and skirt combinations. Plain, striped or polka-dotted grosgrain ribbon, ranging in widths from two to four inches can be used.

JIG-SAW ADDICT

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

WHAT are the basic principles of the Republican Party? Having been a minority party for 17 years, its record of accomplishment has necessarily been negative except for a brief period in the 80th Congress when most of the time was spent in clearing away the wartime controls and taxes. Since, in 1950, the Republicans are again asking the people to return to it control of Congress, they must emphasize the affirmative features of their program.

The Republican party has always promoted the continuous economic improvement of the working man and woman and the great majority of the people. It did so by support of the tariff when tariffs were absolutely essential to protect new industries. It did so by a sound fiscal policy and the gold standard from 1896 to 1912. It believes now that, if sound economic progress is to be achieved, it can only be accomplished by a constant increase in production and the productivity of the workman or farmer. It believes that such an increase can only be brought about by liberty of individual life, by liberty of men to work at their chosen occupations at fair wages, by the liberty of each businessman to run his own business as he sees fit so long as he does not interfere with the rights of others to do the same. It believes in permitting an adequate reward for hard work, ability, genius, and initiative.

It is, therefore, opposed to excessive taxation and to government interference with business through price-fixing, wage-fixing, rationing or government competition. . . . THE Federal Government should concern itself with laws and executive action to prevent the destruction of business freedom through monopoly and unfair competition. Furthermore, it must concern itself with the abolition of all special privilege for employers or employees and the maintenance of equality between business and labor in labor-management relations, as it has done through the Taft-Hartley Law. That law should be perfected and improved. Where regulation is necessary to maintain liberty or equality, it should be done by definite laws, interpreted by courts rather than by the arbitrary discretion of government boards. . . . The Republican party insists

Electric Water System and "Automatic Watering"

INCREASE DAIRY FARM PROFIT

Louis Ormes, herdsman on the Robert M. Ellis dairy farm, R. R. 5, Wilmington, Ohio, watching one of the thirty accredited Jersey cows in the Ellis herd drinking from an automatic watering cup.

WHEN DAIRY COWS have plenty of fresh, clean, drinking water, milk production increases 10 to 15%. Average annual butterfat production goes up as much as 430 to 475 pounds per cow, making the entire dairy operation more profitable by increasing income over feed costs.

The average dairy cow will drink more than twice as much water when automatic water cups are provided, as she will when turned out twice daily to drink from an outside water tank. One automatic watering cup located between each two cows offers them all the water they want while eating, and during the night.

Electric Water System Soon Pays for Itself

Electric water systems are made in both shallow well and deep well types. Electric pumps can switch on automatically to keep the storage tank filled; from there, the water flows under pressure wherever it is needed. For advice on sizes and types of electric water systems and automatic watering cup installations, see your County Agricultural Agent or the Farm Representative of The Dayton Power and Light Company serving your neighborhood.
